Dolphins Finish Season Strong

Congratulations to the Dolphin Swim Team Eleven and Twelve Year old Boys. They won first place at the Red, White and Blue Invitational meet. These swimmers include: Sander Barsingerhorn, Nick Carroll, Alex Carroll, Carter Taylor, Ross Gordon, Winston Kint, Lee Grant, and Michael Gamble. Special recognition should also go to our 2005 swim season high point winners: Souheil Moufarrej, Leila Kent, Adam Vinall, McKenna Keith, Danny Ceballos, Audry Vinall, Nick Carroll, Molly Styslinger, Rory Davidson, Alex Durkee, Jasper Barsingerhorn and Katie Ruppe. Additionally, two swimmers were awarded with Sportsmanship awards for their willingness to swim in an older age group at Divisionals to help score crucial points for our team. These two 11 year old boys are Carter Taylor and Alex Carroll.

Our end of season Divisional Meet was equally exciting. After a disappointing 0 – 5 season, the Dolphins won third place out of the six teams in our division. We were able to redeem ourselves after suffering several very close losses during the regular season. This made the trophy party at Pecans a true celebration. Everyone came out an enjoyed great food and even a slide show. During the celebration, Coaches Sabrina and Angie announced they would be back next year. Even more reason to celebrate. We all had a great time.

Individuals who had outstanding individual performances at Divisionals include:

William Redfield 5th 100 freestyle, 6th 50 backstroke, 5th 50 butterfly

Adam Vinall 5th 25 freestyle, 2nd 25

breaststroke, 2nd 25 butterfly

McKenna Keith 4th 25 freestyle, 3rd 25 backstroke, 5th 25 butterfly

Molly Styslinger 1st 50 freestyle, 2nd 100 IM, 1st 50 backstroke

Rory Davidson 3rd 50 freestyle, 2nd 50 breaststroke, 4th 25 backstroke

Alex Durkee 1st 50 freestyle, 3rd 100 IM, 1st 50 butterfly

Jasper Barsingerhorn 3rd 50 freestyle, 4th 50 breaststroke, 4th 100 IM

Souheil Moufarrej 3rd 25 freestyle, 5th 25 backstroke

Blair Thoman 6th 25 freestyle, 5th 25 butterfly

Brittany Bowles 6th 25 freestyle, 4th 25 butterfly

Danny Ceballos 4th 25 freestyle, 4th 25 breaststroke

Charlie Mansour 5th 50 freestyle, 5th 50 breaststroke

Sander Barsingerhorn 6th 50 breaststroke, 5th 25 backstroke

Sarah Meyer 3rd 50 breaststroke, 6th 50 butterfly

LOEN Garden & Nature Club

The LOEN Garden & Nature club is a group of neighborhood residents (guys and gals) who are interested in learning more about landscaping in our community, finding good resources, addressing yard and pest problems, learning new planting techniques, exchanging plants and participating in fun community activities. We would love for you to join us! We meet every second Wednesday of the month at 7:00 pm. If you are interested in joining, send Lisa Carpenter an email at lisacarpenter@houston.rr.com.

At our last meeting, Glenn Forgan of Wild Birds Unlimited presented a slide show on "Inviting Birds into the Garden". It was an entertaining presentation. With the right mix of shelter, food and water, we can attract quite a variety of birds to our new subdivision! Some of the following types have been seen in our area: Red Wing Blackbird, House Sparrow, House Finch, Mourning Dove, White Wing Dove, Cardinal, Mockingbird, Great Horned Owl, Screech Owl, Loggerhead

Thyme Out for Gardening: Roses Old and New, Part I

Poor Archduke Charles. There he was in early June, happily resting in the flower bed with some of his fellow roses after an extended blooming cycle, with no idea what was about to happen to him. It was several weeks past the sensible date for transplanting roses (or most other plants, for that matter) when I decided that I needed to “rearrange” a few plants. When I start talking about rearranging the beds, John usually heads to the nearest golf course to avoid being asked to assist with the shifting of the plants. We call these fits of transplanting “Edna Ward Toland moments,” after a world-class gardener I knew in San Antonio who thought nothing of digging up a plant and moving it 6 inches to have it in exactly the right location. So my most recent Edna Ward Toland moment meant that Archduke Charles had to move to the northeast about 3 feet.

First I gave ol’ Charles a fairly severe pruning and then I tried to dig out a large root ball for the transfer, to lessen the shock. Unfortunately, the process didn’t go as smoothly as I’d planned. Archduke Charles’s roots had spread a lot farther than I thought and they didn’t come out of the ground very easily. I was left with a rather untidy root ball with very little soil attached. I decided to plant Charles in his new location anyway and hope for the best. As the days went by and the heat increased, I watered him, watched for signs of life, watered him, gave him rose pep talks, and watered him some more. Charles lost all of his remaining leaves, but his stems stayed green. After a couple of weeks with no sign of any new leaf buds, I started thinking that maybe I had finally pushed one of my usually forgiving plants too far. Was Archduke Charles dead, or just sulking? He must have been sulking because around the first of July, when I considered giving up and putting him in the compost bin, Charles began to put out new leaves! As I write this, he’s settling into his new location, and there’s a strong possibility that he might go ahead and bloom again this fall.

I’m sharing the saga of Archduke Charles with you for a couple of reasons. First, it shows that the so-called gardening “rules” about timing, planting techniques, etc. are merely guidelines. If you have the time, patience, and some really tough plants, then go ahead and try a little “extreme gardening” - you just might get away with it. Hold on a minute, did I also just call a rose “a really tough plant?” Come to think of it, how did Archduke Charles survive the plant abuse? Aren’t roses really fussy? Don’t they require a lot of pruning, fertilizing, and spraying? Many modern roses do require a lot of attention and this brings me to the second point of the story: Archduke Charles is an antique rose, and antique roses are extremely hardy, low maintenance plants for your landscape.

The relationship between humans and roses has a long and colorful history that we don’t really have the space to thoroughly discuss here.

For our purposes, let's just say that it appears that from the time roses were discovered in their native habitats around the world, humans have tried to "improve" them in a myriad of ways. Not content with their natural form, we've selected, cross-bred, and/or grafted roses in an attempt to create larger or smaller plants with larger, more, and/or different colored blooms.

Early rose hybridization attempts in the 1700's and 1800's crossed European roses with those found in the Far East and created new classes of roses that had nice flowers, fragrance, form, bloomed on their own rootstocks, and thrived in Western gardens. But somewhere along the way, many of the qualities of the old roses were sacrificed in the commercial rose market in search of the perfect "American Beauty" type hybrid tea rose.

As time passed, many of the early hybrids and selections disappeared from the commercial market, but not from people's hearts or their gardens. Many of the names of the original plants may have been lost, but the plants lived on as cuttings and entire rose bushes were moved from place to place and passed from gardener to gardener. Planted in cemeteries with little care and left on their own after homesteads crumbled, many of these old roses survived for decades without any further human intervention. Rosarians who treasured the old roses began a serious preservation movement in America in the 1930's, documenting, and propagating as many old garden roses as they could find. The movement continues today through national and local organizations, allowing more gardeners to discover the wonderful qualities of the old roses, now also known as antique roses. An antique rose is technically one that was recognized and in existence before 1867. Many gardeners, however, call any rose variety that has been around for 75 years and displays the qualities of the older roses an antique.

One of the groups dedicated to rose preservation in Texas is the Rose Rustlers, organized in 1982. Its members have scoured cemeteries, old homesteads, and gardens across the back roads of Texas through the years, documenting and propagating the roses that have survived our state's sometimes harsh conditions. Through their efforts, and the efforts of nurseries such as the Antique Rose Emporium, Texas gardeners now have access to many beautiful antique roses that will thrive in our landscapes. And to further emphasize that what is old is new again, research projects at universities and commercial nurseries in the past few years have created new rose varieties with old rose form, fragrance, and pest and disease resistance. Next month we'll talk more about these old and new rose varieties, particularly the ones that grow well in the Houston area. We'll also check in on Archduke Charles to see how he's enjoying his new location in the flower bed, and discuss the basics of antique rose care.

the corner and it's never too early to start planning your projects. Fall sales sponsored by local gardening organizations are a great source for interesting and well-adapted plants; scheduled sales are usually listed in the Saturday gardening section of the Houston Chronicle. Be sure and have your utilities marked and obtain any necessary approvals before you start to build or dig for your project. Plant more basil – we have a lot of warm weather left to raise a big crop. Use your basil to make and freeze a batch of pesto and you'll have that fresh flavor for your pasta dishes and soups all winter. Continue to pay careful attention to your watering, particularly the lawn. It may not be necessary to run the sprinklers at all if we're getting a lot of rain. Too much water now can encourage brown patch when the temperatures start to cool off later in the fall. If you haven't done so already, put out a hummingbird feeder and sit back and watch the aerial acrobatics. The males are probably already in town and the females and young birds will be arriving soon. Keep the feeders clean and replace the sugar water every 2 to 3 days during warm weather.

Until next month, happy gardening!

ALPHA IS COMING!

Alpha? Alpha is for anyone interested in finding out more about the Christian faith—people investigating Christianity or Christians who want to brush up on the basics. Adults of all ages are welcome.

Alpha is about learning and laughter. It is about meeting people and discussing questions in a non-judgmental environment. No question is regarded as too simple or too complex. Topics discussed include: Who is Jesus? Why and how do I pray? Who is the Holy Spirit? Does God heal today? And more.

The Alpha course is being hosted by Messiah Lutheran Church on Tuesday evenings beginning August 23 for 12 weeks, 6-8:30 PM. The evenings begin with a shared supper provided by the church. Childcare is provided. All people are invited to participate in the Alpha course. Bring a friend. Register by calling the church office.

Messiah Lutheran Church is a grace place, a congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA). Messiah is located at 11522 Telge Road, ½ mile north of Highway 290. Regular worship times are 6 PM on Saturday evenings (a casual service of song and sacrament), and traditional worship at 8 and 10:30 AM on Sundays. The Education Hour is 9:15-10:15 AM on Sundays. For more information, call 281-890-3013, or www.messiahlc.org. All people are welcome at Messiah.

August "Perspective"

In an effort to provide you with important information about Cy-Fair College, "Perspective" was developed. This column provides the latest information about news and events. Here is a sampling of what's going on:

Fall classes at Cy-Fair College start Aug. 29 - Don't procrastinate any longer. Classes start Aug. 29. In a partnership with Cypress-Fairbanks Independent School District, Cy-Fair College offers new evening classes at the Windfern High School. Registration for courses at all three locations - the new Windfern High School satellite location (12630 Windfern) the Fairbanks Center (14955 Northwest Freeway) and the Cy-Fair College comprehensive Barker Cypress campus (9191 Barker Cypress Road) - is available online at www.nhmccd.edu or call 281-290-3200 or 832-782-5000 for information.

Add a Little L.I.F.E. to Your Week - The Learning, Inspiration, Fellowship and Enrichment (L.I.F.E.) programs are free and held Wednesdays at 10 a.m. in the Cy-Fair College Branch Library (Room 131.) Among the August programs are soap making, basics of American Sign Language, hurricanes, virtual museum tour and family cookbooks. Call the library at 281-290-3213 for L.I.F.E. program information or check the library web page online at cy-faircollege.com/library.

Film Series Comes to Close with "Casablanca" - The Cy-Fair College Summer Film Series comes to a close in August with "eXistenZ" at 1 p.m. Aug. 4, "Harvey" at 1 p.m. Aug. 9 and "Casablanca" at 7 p.m. Aug. 16. Films, shown as a continuing education class, are held and discussed at Barker Cypress campus, Art 102, at no charge to students or the community. Go online at: http://faculty.nhmccd.edu/roboobrien/Film\_Series.html for information and a complete schedule.

Free Hands-on Computer Workshops Open to Community - The Harris County Public Library Cy-Fair College Branch offers free computer workshops, including a family-friendly class and instruction in Spanish. Introduction workshops cover working with templates in Microsoft Word, Excel and PowerPoint. Topics range from basic computer functions like copying and pasting to saving and file management to introductions to the Internet and various software programs. Classes are held Thursdays and Saturdays in the library's computer classroom, LRNC 212. Open Lab is available for one-on-one assistance or specific computer questions. Sessions are designed for community members high-school age and older. No registration is required. For a complete schedule, visit the library web site news and events page at <http://www.cy-faircollege.com/Library/information/news.cfm> or call the reference desk at 281-290-3213.

Help Our Community Garden Grow - The Cy-Fair College community garden was recently dedicated as the Diane K. Troyer Garden, in honor of the continuous support of college president Dr. Diane Troyer. The garden is flourishing and produce has been donated to area food pantries. Join this group Saturdays at 9 a.m. in the garden (west of the library) or in the Cy-ber Café when raining. Anybody interested in helping out Wednesdays at 1 p.m., contact Charles Beresford at charles.e.beresford@nhmccd.edu or 281-550-7338. Enrollment in the "Community Gardening" CE course is required for membership, but volunteers and the "just curious" are always welcome. Old muddy shoes and work gloves are recommended. For information, contact Rob Coyle at robert.a.coyle@nhmccd.edu or visit <http://faculty.nhmccd.edu/rocoyle/Garden.htm>.

Light And Easy Lemonade Cake

(NAPSA) This year's most popular cake at the block party could be the one that tastes like fresh lemonade and blueberries. It may well be the one everyone wants to try and, even better, it is low fat.

It begins with a great tasting fat-free blueberry muffin mix, so it's a breeze to make. All you add is lemonade concentrate, water, an egg and freshly grated lemon zest. The cake bakes up with a light texture and a tasty golden top.

Because it packs well and is so delicious, you'll have it made-in-the-shade when you bake it for warm weather picnics and potlucks.

Fresh, lemony and good to go, it may well become everyone's hands-down favorite. So when life hands out lemons, just make Blueberry Lemonade Cake.

Low Fat Blueberry Lemonade Cake

- 1 package Krusteaz Fat Free Blueberry Muffin Mix (1 pouch muffin mix and 1 can blueberries)
- 1/2 cup lemonade concentrate
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon finely grated lemon zest
- powdered sugar (optional)
- fresh blueberries (optional)

Preheat oven to 350F. Drain and rinse blueberries and place on a paper towel to drain; set aside. Place muffin mix, lemonade concentrate, water, egg and lemon zest in medium bowl. Stir together until moistened, about 40 strokes. Gently fold in drained blueberries. Spoon batter into lightly greased, 9-inch round cake pan. Bake 27-32 minutes or until toothpick inserted into center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan. Cool completely. Dust with powdered sugar and serve with fresh blueberries, if desired.

The Hidden Dangers Of Computer Disposal

(NAPSA)-To millions of computer users worldwide, an outdated or malfunctioning computer is no different than a broken toaster; they simply toss it in the trash and buy a new one. However, unlike a busted kitchen appliance, a computer should not be thrown away for two critical reasons: it can lead to identity theft and poison the environment.

Protect The Environment

Some pieces of hardware may contain toxic materials. Much like used motor oil or old paint, certain computer parts must not be disposed of in a public landfill in order to prevent toxic substances from leaching into the ground and contaminating water supplies. These components should be disposed of properly by trained professionals who participate in computer recycling.

Protect Your Identity

The hard drive inside your computer contains an extensive amount of private information, such as financial records, personal e-mails, family photos and critical documents. To prevent this data from falling into the wrong hands-which could lead to identity theft-it is imperative that you delete it prior to selling, recycling or disposing of your computer.

To erase files in a safe, permanent manner, you must do more than delete them and empty the Windows "recycle bin." While these actions may remove the information from Windows, they do not expunge the files from the hard drive itself. The only ways to ensure that your private files are permanently erased are to use special "shredder" software programs.

A word of caution: if your hard drive is on the fritz or appears to be "dead," don't assume that your data is incapable of being retrieved. A crafty thief could rummage through your trash, steal the malfunctioning hard drive you threw out, then use special hardware or software tools to recover your data. Before throwing away any hard drive that appears to be inaccessible or severely damaged, make certain the drive is truly dead by physically smashing it several times with a hammer or similar tool.

PETS & PEOPLE

Is Your Cat a Couch Pet-tato?

(NAPSA)-It's time to let the cat out of the bag. Our feline friends are becoming couch potatoes as a result of their sedentary lifestyles and "ho-hum" daily routines.

Obesity is the number-one nutritional disorder among cats, according to studies by Nestlé Purina PetCare. In fact, studies suggest that approximately 25 percent of cats taken to veterinary clinics are overweight. And a survey conducted by leading cat food brand Friskies reveals that the average owner spends less than 10 minutes a day playing with her cat. Despite the perception that all cats like to do is sleep, they need playtime, social interaction and physical activity to help maintain good body condition and be as happy and healthy as possible.

True, cats do enjoy their catnaps. They sleep an average of 16 hours per day. But it is up to us- as their friends and providers-to make the most out of the eight hours they are awake. This means we need to make sure they get both physical and mental stimulation to get more out of life.

"Many people believe that all cats need is food, water and a litter box-and that's simply not true," said Pam Johnson-Bennett, national feline behaviorist and author. "Cats are complex animals with keen minds and athletic bodies that require daily exercise, adventure and fun for optimum health."

According to Johnson-Bennett, there are two simple ways to give your cat more out of life.

Add Variety to Playtime

Cats respond well to play that mimics their natural instincts, such as climbing, scratching, hunting and exploring. By adding some basic elements to your home, such as elevated perches, a cat tree and a solid scratching post, you can increase their activity.

You should be part of the fun instead of sitting on the sidelines, because cats love human interaction. Playing with your cat also helps establish a stronger bond. With a little patience and time, cats can be trained to do fun behaviors like jumping through hoops and rolling over. As food-motivated animals, all it takes is a treat to encourage and reward the behavior. Use simple objects from around the house to create some fun purr-formances. For example, cut the bottom out of a paper bag to create a tunnel for your cat to explore. Or teach your cat to jump through an embroidered hoop for a food reward.

Make Mealtime More Fun

While it is important to feed cats a high-quality cat food such as Friskies that provides the variety, great taste and nutrition they need, don't forget to add fun to their feeding routine. Rather than placing your cat's food bowl in the same location every day, try creating several fun feeding stations around her playroom so she can hunt for her food. And create a fun game at mealtime by placing your cat's normal portion of wet food into several compartments of a muffin tin so she can search for her supper.

Following these simple steps can help prevent cats from becoming couch pet-tatoes and enhance the quality of their lives. For additional information on how to give your cat more out of life, visit www.friskies.com.
