Steeplechase Holiday Decorating Contest Judging December 16th-20th

The ho-ho holiday season is upon us and we all look forward to the bright lights and wonderful decorations throughout the community. Once again, we'll be selecting the best decorated home in each section of Steeplechase. Show your pride in the season, your home and the neighborhood!

The Steeplechase Angel Brigade

The Steeplechase Angel Brigade is a group of residents who have volunteered to help our fellow neighbors in times of suffering. The purpose of this outreach program is to let our neighbors know that Steeplechase cares and to provide help when needed. We are typically called upon to help provide food for grieving families but have also assisted with clothing donations, sending cards of sympathy or concern, and providing temporary lawn care. The Angel Brigade coordinator is Mary Anne Oller. Please contact Mary Anne at 281-894-8749 or at AngelBrigade281@aol.com if you or someone you know is in need.

A big commitment is not necessary so please do not hesitate to add your name to the volunteer list. Currently the list is small as some original volunteers have moved. Please consider joining the Angel Brigade today. The rewards outweigh the task!

Please note: In the event this article is not published regularly in the newsletter, you can find this information on the Steeplechase website.

Trash Collection: Important Notice to all Residents from MUD 168

Effective January 1, 2007, Waste Corporation of Texas will be the new trash collection provider. PLEASE NOTE YOUR COLLECTION DAYS WILL CHANGE TO WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY WITH RECYCLING ON WED. Be looking for additional info in your December water bill.

Winter Pool Notes

Thank you to everyone who completed the pool survey. The Pool Committee met in late October and made several recommendations to the Board for improvements next summer. For information on next season, including the new youth Swim Team: log-on to Steeplechasetx.com. Water aerobics ended in September and classes will resume next summer – stay healthy and exercise this winter!

A Note of Appreciation from Seniors Group

The Senior Group who meet on Tuesdays to play cards and socialize would like to say a very big THANK YOU for all the wonderful things that Jinnie Kelley has done over the past few years for our community. She has done a great job serving on the Board and we appreciate her hard work. Good luck on your next project and God Speed.

The Senior Group meets for fun, games and fellowship Tuesdays at noon (until 3:30-4pm) in the clubhouse. We have about 8-9 regulars (8 ladies and 1 gentleman) – we welcome more – just come by.

Fit Facts
FROM THE AMERICAN COUNCIL ON EXERCISE

Exercising in the Cold

The biggest concern for exercising in the cold is hypothermia, or too much heat loss. When you exercise in a cold environment you must consider one primary factor: how much heat will your body lose during exercise?

Heat loss is controlled in two ways:

1. Insulation, consisting of body fat plus clothing.
2. Environmental factors, including temperature, wind and whether you're exercising in the air or in the water. Each of these factors plays a role in the body's ability to maintain a comfortable temperature during exercise.

Insulation

Although many people aspire to have a lean figure, people with a little more body fat are better insulated and will lose less heat. Clothing adds to the insulation barrier and is clearly the most important element in performance and comfort while exercising in the cold. One study showed that heat loss from the head alone was about 50 percent at the freezing mark, and by simply wearing a helmet, subjects were able to stay outside indefinitely.

Clothing is generally a good insulator because it has the ability to trap air, a poor conductor of heat. If the air trapped by the clothing cannot conduct the heat away from the body, temperature will be maintained. Unlike air, however, water is a rapid conductor of heat and even in the coldest of temperatures, people will sweat and risk significant heat loss. With this in mind, you want to choose clothing that can trap air but allow sweat to pass through, away from the body.

By wearing clothing in layers, you have the ability to change the amount of insulation that is needed while many new products can provide such a layered barrier, it is important to avoid heavy cotton sweats or tightly woven material that will absorb and retain water. Because these materials cannot provide a layer of dry air near the skin, they can increase the amount of heat your body loses as you exercise.

Keeping the hands and feet warm is a common concern when exercising in the cold. Lower temperatures cause blood to be shunted away from the hands and feet to the center of the body to keep the internal organs warm and protected. Superficial warming of the hands will return blood flow to prevent tissue damage. Blood flow will not return to the feet unless the temperature of the torso is normal or slightly higher (.5-1.0 degree Fahrenheit (F) above normal). So, to keep your feet warm you must also keep the rest of your body warm at all times.

Check with the weatherman

Always check the air temperature and wind chill factor before exercising in the cold. Data from the National Safety Council suggest little danger to individuals with properly clothed skin exposed at 20° F, even with a 30 mph wind. A danger does exist for individuals with exposed skin when the wind chill factor (combined effect of temperature and wind) falls below minus 20° F.

That can be achieved by any combination of temperatures below 20° F with a wind of 40 mph and temperatures below minus 20° F with no wind. If you are exercising near the danger zone for skin exposure, it also is advisable to warm the air being inhaled by wearing a scarf or mask over your nose and mouth to warm the air being inhaled.

Rules for exercising in the cold

Check the temperature and wind conditions before you go out and do not exercise if conditions are dangerous.

Keep your head, hands and feet warm.

- Dress in layers that can provide a trapped layer of dry air near the skin (avoid cotton sweats and other similar materials).
- Warm the air you are breathing if temperatures are below your comfort level (usually around 0° F).
