LANDSCAPE FOCUS- Windermere Yard of the Month

Congratulations! The APRIL 'Yard of the Month'

Winner is.....11914 Palmetto Shores

11914 Palmetto Shores

This winner's landscaping was great and impressed members of our committee as the selection for 'Yard of the Month'. Congratulations for the pride you have in your home and our neighborhood.

The homeowner receives a $25 Gift Card from Home Depot, bragging rights to the honor AND our WL Yard of the Month sign remains in their yard during the month. Our thanks go out to all residents that care about their homes and keep their lawns maintained.

We thank you for making our neighborhood more beautiful and enjoyable! Our 'spring flowers' were planted and we hope you enjoy the colors as it adds so much to the neighborhood. Everyone seems to be busy getting new mulch, flowers and shrubs, getting ready for summer.

The roar of the lawn mowers is a sure sign that summer is almost here!

We do appreciate the time and participation by our judging volunteers during this selection process!

GOING GREEN!

Dear Neighbors

We hear a lot in the news about "going green". Once a year there is "Earth Day" when we are all encouraged to recycle our electrical goods among other items.

Well, here in Windermere Lakes we all have the opportunity to recycle EVERY WEEK!!

The money you pay in your monthly water bill includes an amount for Waste Management to pick up certain items from your doorstep EVERY THURSDAY.

In order to get a green recycling box, simply call 713 686 6666 and ask for one to be delivered to your house. Once you have it you can place in it newspapers, magazines, cardboard from cereal boxes, most plastics including milk cartons and all cans both steel and aluminum. You'll find that this cuts down on your regular trash considerably.....and you are "going green"!

Have you noticed that Kroger and Walmart are selling large re-usable cloth bags for $1 each? They are really easy to use and much easier to carry into the house from the car! If you don't decide to use this option, then remember that both Kroger and Walmart will re-cycle your plastic bags too.

Finally, clean water is an expensive item to produce and we all like to keep our lawns green using our sprinklers but when you see water running into the gutters and the drains, it's not helping your yard, it's just clean water down the drain! And it costs you money!

There is a subdivision in Sugarland that is about to get "gray water" to water their yards and clean their cars as they cannot get enough clean water...let's avoid that happening to us!!!

GO GREEN... make that call today!

(Special thanks to our contributor, Barbara Cottam)

The History of Memorial Day

Memorial Day is a United States federal holiday observed on the last Monday of May. Formerly known as Decoration Day, it commemorates U.S. men and women who died while in military service to their country. First enacted to honor Union soldiers of the American Civil War (it is celebrated near the day of reunification after the civil war), it was expanded after World War I to include American casualties of any war or military action.

Over the past century, more than 35 million men and women answered the call to arms in World War I, World War II, Korea, Vietnam, the Persian Gulf, Iraq, and countless unnamed military engagements. More than half a million of them never came home. Some died in battle, others in captivity; all died too soon. Recent military action in Afghanistan and Iraq has offered fresh reminders of the human reality of war: ordinary men and women leaving homes and families and all they know to risk their lives for an ideal of honor, or duty, or just to protect the soldier next to them. People of patriotism and goodwill may debate the merits of any given war, police action, or humanitarian mission. But there should be no debate about our debt to the hundreds of thousands of our citizens who have given the ultimate sacrifice of their lives heeding the nation's call to service.

Memorial Day is more than the start of summer. It is a chance to pause and remember the sacrifices -- remember the gallantry and bravery -- remember the fallen.

FROM THE AMERICAN COUNCIL ON EXERCISE®

The Top Ten Fun Fitness Summer Activities for Kids

SUMMER IS HERE AND CHILDREN

need to stay active, healthy and busy during their break from school. Parents need to encourage their children to warm up properly and stretch before each activity and teach them never to play through any type of pain or make winning the reason for playing any sport. Let them choose the activity and keep the focus on having fun. To keep kids moving, the American Council on Exercise suggests ten, fun fitness summer activities.

- 1. Soccer: This highly active game involving both agility and teamwork has grown increasingly popular in the U.S. in recent years. To keep kids injury free, be sure they are geared up in appropriate protective equipment, such as shin guards. Soccer players should also wear shoes with cleats or ribbed soles to prevent slipping.
- 2. Martial Arts: With a variety of forms to choose from, martial arts are a great way to get kids involved in a sport that involves strength, coordination and mental discipline. Proper training and equipment to prevent injury are a must.
- 3. Bike Riding: Bicycle riding is a fun activity for the whole family. Experts suggest children ride on sidewalks and paths until they are at least 10 years old, show good riding skills and are able to follow the rules of the road. Helmets, of course, are a necessity for both children and adults.
- 4. Swimming: Nothing beats splashing around a pool with friends, and swimming offers the benefits of a full-body workout for both young and old. The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends swimming lessons for children ages 4 and up, although classes are available for babies and toddlers as well.

- 5. Basketball: Whether it's a round of HORSE, a game of one on one, or a full-court competition, basketball is ideal for developing hand/eye coordination and teamwork. Encourage children under the age of seven to use a smaller foam or rubber ball, and lower the height of the basket if possible.

- 6. Obstacle courses: Challenge kids to use a variety of different skills by setting up an obstacle course at the park using playground equipment or other items, such as jump ropes, balls and cones.
- 7. Dancing: Whether your kids like ballet or hip-hop, dancing encourages them to be creative and move their bodies freely. For video arcade fans, an innovative new game challenges opponents to follow a dance routine while watching the video. Kids can spend time learning new moves while also getting a great workout.

- 8. Board Sports: Whether snowboarding in the winter, surfing in the summer, or skateboarding year-round, kids love to be on the board. Injury risk, however, is higher for these sports. For both snowboarding and skateboarding, kids should wear helmets to prevent head injuries, and surfers or boogie-boarders should always be accompanied by an adult.

- 9. Jumping rope: Jumping rope is still a favorite on most playgrounds. Whether alone or in a group, jumping rope challenges both coordination and stamina.
- 10. Ice-skating/Inline-skating: Ice-skating, inline-skating and hockey can be both fun and safe as long as appropriate protective gear such as a helmet, wrist guards and kneepads are worn. Hockey players should wear a helmet with foam lining and a full-face mask, a mouth guard, pads for shoulders, knees, elbows and shins, as well as gloves.
