Finding Balance

I know, work-life balance has been discussed to death. Yet how many of you find yourself nodding and saying, “Yes, I know I need to do find a better balance. It totally makes sense that I feel tired and unhappy because I’m rushing around all the time. I’ll find a way to make some time for myself”? You tell yourself you’ll schedule some free time later, but does later ever come? I know I’ve been waiting for later for years now. I decided it was time for a change. Here are a few thoughts that have helped me along the way:

1. What’s really important? It’s time to decide what is really necessary and important in your life. Pick 5 priorities that you feel are absolutely vital to your well-being (e.g. family, religion, work, friends, and hobbies).

2. How can you cut back? Now, that you’ve chosen your top 5 priorities it’s time for the hard part—cutting back. Find ways to negate, or decrease, of the things that are stressing you out. Maybe you don’t have to do _____ for so and so. Or is there a certain person in your life who’s been causing more stress than happiness? You don’t have to cut that person out of your life, but maybe it’s time you take a step back and re-evaluate whether or not the friendship is healthy at this time in your life.

3. Scheduled spontaneity. I know, scheduled spontaneity seems like an oxymoron, but it’s incredibly important. Create a routine that works for you, but be sure to block out some free time. This time can be as long, or as short, as you’d like and is time where you can do whatever you want to do. Just make sure it’s fun!

As always, I turned to the pasture for inspiration. As I sat and watched my horses going about their day, I made some interesting observations. Horses are masters of prioritizing what’s important. Their top priorities fall into line as: safety, comfort, and play. Everything else falls by the wayside if these priorities aren’t met. They are terrific partners with a healthy work ethic, while still relishing in their freedom to run and play. Their exuberance is captivating and beautiful to watch.

Once I took a step back to look at the bigger picture, I was amazed at how easy finding balance could be. I didn’t need to run myself into exhaustion to please everyone. Doing so always ended with me feeling like I was trying to do so much, but doing none of it as well as I wanted. Finding a new work-life balance would not be possible without the support of great friends (both human and horse!), family, and God. These pillars of support help me stay on track and keep me motivated. I highly recommend you find pillars of your own to utilize in your own transition.

Overnight Coffee Cake

Recipe provided by Sherry Watson. The original source is unknown (cut from an old magazine many years ago). This recipe is unbelievably simple, but it makes a beautiful presentation at the table.

1 pkg. frozen cloverleaf roll dough (about 25 rolls)
1 pkg. (four-serving size) vanilla pudding mix (not instant)

½ cup brown sugar
½ cup pecans, chopped
1 stick butter, melted

Separate frozen roll dough into pieces (each cloverleaf makes three pieces). Other rolls will work, but with larger pieces of dough, use only 20; more may be too many for your pan.

Combine dry pudding mix with brown sugar and pecans.

Melt butter.

Place pieces of frozen roll dough in a well-buttered Bundt pan. (Do not use angel food pan; butter leaks out!) Pour melted butter over frozen dough and sprinkle with pudding mixture.

Leave cake pan out overnight; the dough rises beautifully by morning. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Invert on serving plate to serve. Sticky – but good!

OLIVER, FAGIN AND THE GANG TAKE OVER THE GARZA MAINSTAGE

How can one small boy defy cruel taskmasters, abusive authority figures, thieving friends, and even a heartless murderer? Join us for Oliver!, November 25 – December 18 to find out. With music, lyrics and book by Lionel Bart, adults and children of all ages will enjoy renowned songs such as, “Food, Glorious Food,” “Consider Yourself,” and “Pick-a-Pocket!”

The Garza Mainstage ushers you into Victorian England with a tri-level set—complete with secret passageways, special effects, and amazing transformations! Join us as Oliver, a malnourished, workhouse orphan, becomes the neglected apprentice of an undertaker, only to escape to London and find acceptance amongst a group of petty thieves and pickpockets led by the cunning Fagin. When Oliver is captured for a theft he did not commit, the benevolent victim, Mr. Brownlow, takes him in as his ward. However, fearing the secrecy of his hideout, Fagin employs the sinister Bill Sikes and the sympathetic Nancy to kidnap Oliver, threatening the boy’s chances of discovering the true love of a family. Find out how Oliver makes it through...with a little help from his friends! Join Stageworks, November 25 – December 18 for the Tony and Olivier Award-winning, Oliver!

Michael Montgomery, director, explained, “I’ve worked hard to stay true to Dickens’ social activism and Bart’s bold musical storytelling, but mixed that with some of my favorite modern storytellers, such as Tim Burton, Michael and Janet Jackson, and Lin Manuel Miranda. The crisp movement, colorful costumes and scenic imagery is all inspired by some of my favorite musical productions, including Les Misérables, Fiddler on the Roof, Cabaret and Hamilton. It should feel like a fun, familiar mashup of a classic story—one which I hope inspires you to support and defend, with the Oliver grit, those less fortunate in our society this holiday season.”

Victoria-era London is home to Stageworks regulars Clairey Townsend (Oliver), last seen as Zuzu in It’s A Wonderful Life; The Narrator from Into the Woods, Chris Conway (Fagin); also from Into the Woods as the Baker’s Wife, Jennifer Stewart (Nancy); Jana Ellsworth (Widow Corney), last seen as Vi Moore in Footloose; Taylor Fisher (Bill Sikes), coming off his performance as Audrey II in Little Shop of Horrors; playing another character of questionable morals is JT Fischer (Artful Dodger), last seen in Footloose (Chuck); and Patrick Barton (Mr. Sowerberry), last seen as Clarence in It’s a Wonderful Life. Other faces Stageworks fans will recognize are Eugene Griesbach (Mr. Brownlow), Catherine Campbell (Bett), Chad Dyer (Noah), and ensemble members: Sam Balest, Kevyn Eddy, Jeff Hirt, Alex Kerry, Kendall Montgomery, Morgan Montgomery, Lindsay Scovil, Noah Sprague, Jett Thompson, Jenna Townsend, Peyton Wilkinson, and Alexandra Wiese. Rounding out the London scene are Stageworks newcomers Amanda Hart Basset (Mrs. Sowerberry), Ellen Evans (Charlotte), Jennifer Henzler (Mrs. Bedwin), Scott Johnson (Mr. Bumble), Zachary Salich (Dr. Grimwig), Faith Taylor (Old Sally) and ensemble members: Thomas Brown, Ethan Chumley, Brennan Ellsworth, Enrique Gomez, Adrienne Guss, Daniel LeCheminant, Chelsea Lerner, Lili Longden, Meghan Longden, Patty Lozano, Caleb Walker and Henry Wolfe.

This Dickens classic come to life with the leadership of Michael Montgomery (director), Jana Ellsworth (music director), Adam Delka & Dru Wisner (choreographers), David Dean (sound design), Ron Putterman (light design), Barbara Terry (costume design), and Stephanie Wisdom (stage manager).

Down the Drain

Washing your car may seem like a great way to beat the heat this summer while accomplishing something constructive on your to-do list. But you might want to think twice about the environmental impact before you park your car in the driveway and pull out your bucket, hose and old towels.

Even if you use a biodegradable cleaner, the soapy water that runs off your car when you hose it down not only contains detergent, but residue from automobile fluids like oil, gasoline and antifreeze. Each time you rinse your car, the contaminated water flows untreated directly into the stormwater system and eventually makes its way into streams and rivers. And, as the water runs out of your driveway and down the street toward the storm sewer, it also picks up other toxic substances, like fertilizers, petroleum deposits and surface paint from the pavement. Parking your car on a grassy area while you wash it may help some, but the toxins will end up in the groundwater eventually.

As an alternative, consider using a commercial carwash facility. Whether a conveyor type, self-service, in-bay automatic or custom hand-wash business, these establishments are required by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to capture and route their wastewater to a treatment facility before the water can be discharged into the sanitary sewer.

Toxic residues aren't the only reason to take your car to a commercial car wash. Rinsing your car at home with a garden hose can use as much as 10 to 15 gallons of water per minute, while professional car wash facilities can limit the water flow to as little as three to five gallons per minute. If you spend an hour in your driveway washing your car, you may have sent as much as 150 gallons of contaminated water directly down the drain. This is especially important in long summer dry spells.

So help the environment and save time this summer: leave car washing to the professionals.
